To Whom it May Concern,

Todd Malecki has been coaching in our local high school leagues for many years. I have always felt that Todd is one of the most capable coaches and solid people in the South Bay coaching scene. He exhibits a wealth of knowledge about the technical aspects of basketball and handles himself in a positive and classy manner at all times. Todd has always demonstrated an excellent working relationship with his players, being a motivator and a caring teacher.

Todd also is well liked in the coaching community. He seems to hold fast to solid values and priorities and is an honest person who works hard to win but with sound ethics and a proper perspective. Todd is quite fair to all people and gets along with and works well with a multi-cultured variety of kids and adults.

In my experience with Todd Malecki, I have found him to be a fine role model and someone who I would recommend without reservation for any coaching position.

Sincerely,

Glenn Marx
