"We Get You Better"
Since 1996

www.icemenbasketball.com
A 501(c)3 non profit organization

The Icemen Basketball program is designed to teach the beautiful game of basketball to boys and girls ages 8-18. Our primary focus is on the “skill development” of the individual players in a team setting. The “fundamentals of basketball” are the “building blocks” of this program.

Our program has been built by “word of mouth” and we take pride in the fact that very few of our players are “recruited.” In fact, we have had many local high school/college coach’s sons play for the Icemen.

Our coaches are professional and highly motivated to make this a “positive environment” for our players. But make no mistake we do not baby sit. “We make you better.” This is a very organized program that holds “you accountable” to work hard on and off the floor. We do not measure our success by “wins and losses,” but by your improvement. Hopefully you’ll leave this program not only a better player, but a better person.

Coach Malecki is one of the “givers” in basketball. He is a real teacher of the game. I think so much of him I have my son in his program and saw much improvement.

Letter from Rick Sabosky

Todd Malecki is one of the finest Coaches with whom I have had the pleasure to work with and watch. He is innovative and yet totally grounded in the fundamentals of this wonderful game of basketball and that is what sets him apart. He truly loves and respects the game. The skills he emphasizes are the same ones that elevate one player over another. He gives his teams and individual players the "winning edge."

Coach Malecki can coach any level of player from youth basketball to the pros. He works harder, longer, and smarter and his players are always totally prepared and grounded in the fundamental skills. He has coached my own son and he improved dramatically. With Coach Malecki you learn the right way to play the game.
