To Whom It May Concern,

It is with great confidence that I recommend Todd Malecki for a position on your staff.

I am currently the Head Men's Basketball Coach at California State University, Los Angeles. I have had the great pleasure of knowing Todd for many years. I have had the opportunity to evaluate Todd's coaching many times and his basketball knowledge is second to none.

Todd has proven to be an exceptional motivator and is more than capable of bringing out the best in each player. He understands the true laws of teamwork which transcends the lines of the court. Todd's work ethic and professionalism are respected by his colleagues and the young men he coaches. Although Todd is confident with his ability to coach, he is open to new concepts and suggestions.

Todd Malecki possesses so many positive attributes that would greatly enhance any coaching staff. I can guarantee that if you were to choose Todd for this position you will not be disappointed.
